Editor Courier:

My dear Mr. Editor: Now that the big Round Up is past history, would it not be well for all the citizens of Keytesville and vicinity to take stock as it were of the conditions around about us, and take the round up as a guide, if you please. That it was a success all will admit, even with the worst of weather conditions. It seems to me the first thing for us to consider in taking stock, is why was the Round Up a success, with the awful, I should say the miserable condition, of our streets, and street crossings. The ancient board side walks, the many piles of bricks and rubbish, and many other unsightly as well as unsanitary objects on the streets, alleys and almost anywhere, in fact. It would seem that the ladies and gentlemen who assumed the responsibility had some task to perform, and great as the task was, it was well performed, but not without some attention, and self sacrifice, and there is the secret of success. In any undertaking we should all get together, and pull together, and we will be able to succeed in anything we undertake. And what to our natural advantages? Well in the first place we have the most popular town in the county. The people of Old Chariton naturally want to come to Keytesville. The farmers in particular want to come to our town and why? Because we have a livery barn? A hitch rack? Nay verily. Or perhaps they come to see our ancient street car line. There are people in this United States who would walk many miles to see street cars drawn by horses, but with all our advantages and disadvantages we have the most popular town in the county, then what could we have if we all pulled together. Let see: We could have a system of water-works which would give a better rate of insurance. We could have a hitch rack, a place to park cars when the farmers come to town. We could have clean streets. We could have a monthly stock sale. A stock exchange if you please where not only stock could be exchanged, but farm machinery, plows, wagons, house hold effects etc. We have only enumerated a few of the things needed to make our old town attractive, only a wild shot we should say, perhaps far from the mark, but with the thought of instilling some enthusiasm, into the minds of some of our people, and there are none better in the world, and that we might more fully realize the wonderful opportunities before us with this

In the Probate Court of said County, August Adjourned Term 1919.

In the matter of the estate of James W. Redding, deceased:—

Now on this day comes John M. Callahan, Administrator of the estate of James W. Redding, deceased, and presents to the court his petition, in which he alleges that the said James W. Redding was the owner in fee, subject to the debt herein after mentioned, of Lot Three (3), of the Northeast quarter of section Five (5), Township Fifty-five (55) Range Eighteen (18), except 5 acres off the south side, in Chariton County, Missouri. That on or about February 21, 1917, the said James W. Redding borrowed of the County School Funds of said County, the sum of $2500.00, to secure which he and his wife, Leta F. Redding, executed to said County, to the use of said funds, their certain County Mortgage, dated February 21, 1917, and which Mortgage is now of record in County Mortgage Book 3, at page 500, of the records of the office of the Recorder of Deeds of said county, in which they conveyed, the above described lands; that the said James W. Redding died before the payment of said debt, and the same is now a lien against said land, and that there will not be assets to redeem such estate after the payment of debts; which said petition is accompanied by a true account of his administration, a list of debts due to and by the deceased and remaining unpaid, and an inventory of the real estate and of the remaining personal property, with its appraised value, and all the other assets in his hands, and whole verified by the affidavit of said administrator; and asking this court for an order authorizing him to sell all the right, title and interest of the estate in and to said real estate. On examination thereof, it is ordered by the court that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased be notified that application as aforesaid has been made, and that unless the contrary be shown on or before December 13, 1919, at a term of this court to be held on that date, an order will be made for the sale of all the right, title and interest of said estate in and to said real estate. And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in a newspaper published in this county, for four weeks prior to said December 13, 1919.

Witness my hand as Judge and Ex-Officio Clerk of said court and the seal thereof. Done this November 4, 1919.
